CHANCELLOR DAY IS CHARGED WITH BREAKING RULES

Haled Before Methodist Conference for Speaking Evil of a Magistrate.

Turns on His Accuser in Same Manner.

STATEMENT IN HIS NEW BOOK

New York, March 7.—Though official confirmation is not to be had here today, it is understood in Methodist circles that charges involving church discipline have been preferred against Chancellor James R. Day, of Syracuse University. Dr. Day, who is an ordained clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church, is a member of the New York conference before the presiding elder of which, Dr. P. M. Watters, the allegations have been made.

It is stated that Day is charged with having spoken "evil of magistrates" in violation of paragraph thirty, general rules of the Methodist church, which warns against "uncharitable or unprofitable conversation; particularly speaking evil of magistrates or of ministers."

In an interview May 8, 1906, Day is credited with saying: "Anarchy of the sort practiced by President Roosevelt is the most dangerous kind of anarchy. Anarchism in the white house is the most perilous anarchy that has ever threatened our country. It means anarchy if judges are to be set aside and their verdicts held up to criticism by the president."

Cooke Makes Charges.

Brandon, Vt., March 7.—Charges have been preferred by Rev. George A. Cooke, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Brandon against Rev. J. R. Day, LL. D., chancellor of Syracuse University, on the ground that Day defamed the character of President Roosevelt. Charges have been presented to Rev. Dr. R. M. Watters, presiding elder of the New York conference of Methodists to which Day is ecclesiastically attached. Cooke said today that in a book entitled "A Raid on Prosperity," written by Day, the president was severely criticized and that in his opinion Day had violated the rules of the Methodist Episcopal church in thus assailing the president. Cooke stated the specific charge preferred was defamation of character. He considered that although Syracuse University is under obligation to the Standard Oil people by reason of large money gifts, Day is not justified as a minister of the Methodist church in assailing President Roosevelt; the university itself is non-sectarian. It is expected that the charges will be passed upon at the April conference of the New York district.

Day's Statement.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 7.—Chancellor Day made a statement in which he said that "Cooke is something of a joke to those who know him," and that he "seems to have a mania to bring charges against someone and he has exercised this privilege many times in the past." Day declares that he is "utterly indifferent to Cooke's charges or his procedure," and is confident he can successfully defend himself against his accusations.

MASSES FOR DEAD IN TWO CATHOLIC CHURCHES TODAY

Cleveland, O., March 7.—Early mass was held in two Catholic churches of Collinwood this morning for children of the congregations, who lost their lives in the school fire. At St. Mary's sixteen caskets lay in a long row before the altar. At the same time nearly as long a row of bodies lay before the altar of St. Joseph's church. One coffin contained three charred bodies. Twelve children of the Presbyterian church were buried today, each funeral being separate. From nearly 30 other homes funerals were held today. It will be Monday before all the funerals are held.

The corrected death list is 167, of these 22 are unidentified, five are estimated to have been burned to ashes.

Mikado Sends Ultimatum to China and Failure to Acquiesce Seems to Mean Nothing Less Than War.

Immediate Release of Ship, Apology and Indemnity Demanded After Cabinet Meeting This Morning.

Tokio, March 7.—The mikado sent a demand to Peking for the immediate surrender of the Tatsu Maru, the vessel seized by China for smuggling arms to rebels, and for ample apology and full indemnity. He made it clear that neither delays nor a further contrary proposition will be tolerated. If the demand is refused or ignored China is warned that Japan will act at once. The message amounts to an ultimatum. It followed a cabinet meeting and therefore is accepted as the official government position. Unless China yields there seems to be no alternative but war.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR THE PASSENGERS ON TRAIN.

Kansas City, March 7.—Burlington train No. 4, which left Kansas City this morning for Chicago, was derailed near Kearney, Mo. Fifteen to eighteen persons were injured. Three cars and the engine turned over on a 15 foot embankment near a bridge, when a rail broke. None was killed.

Large Parsnip Found.

The curiosities in the vegetable line received a setback this morning when H. W. Rottgering, a truck gardener, exhibited a parsnip 3½ feet long. Mr. Rottgering found the large parsnip in the bed with others no larger than the ordinary. The usual parsnip is not more than a foot long, and the large vegetable did not receive any more attention than its neighbors.

The Paducah Forestry association has received a communication from Congressman Ollie James, saying, that although he, as a general rule, does not favor bills of the character of the Appalachian forest bill, he will support this one. The bill provides an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the department of agriculture to purchase land on the watersheds and reforest them to correct the floods and the droughts. In his letter Mr. James says: "As my constituency seems to be unanimously for this measure, and as I am here to reflect their views, I shall give this measure my hearty support."

Will Come From North and Cross Broadway About Twenty-sixth Street Running Toward Union Station.

Blue prints of the route of the Paducah Northern Railway company's terminals at Paducah are completed and on exhibition in Mayor Smith's office, where members of the general council and of the fiscal court have been inspecting them. The company will ask for a right-of-way from the city and county from the Kentucky end of the proposed bridge at Metropolis into the city.

The road will strike the city limits at Twenty-fifth street between Kentucky avenue and Washington street, after crossing Broadway between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. From there it runs straight toward the Union station, crossing the Mayfield road just beyond Wheeler avenue. The yards will be beyond the Union station.

The company also will ask for a belt line, swinging from the main line north of the city and paralleling the Cairo division of the Illinois Central. It cuts through Rottgering's addition and comes in Tenth street to Trimble street, thence down Trimble street and through private property to Maiden alley at Jefferson street, running thence to Washington street and from there through private property to Second street at Jackson street. At Norton street the belt line strikes Third street and follows along the side of Third street to George street. It crosses Island creek and through Mechanicsburg along Meyers street, or stopping at Island creek, follows its meanderings toward the Union station, as may be preferred.

To the Public. In a public statement the promoters say:

"The parties who originated this project, being all citizens of Paducah, have borne the expenses thus far and now cordially invite the attention of the public and all citizens, who are interested in bringing new railroads to the city, to an investigation of the undertaking of the company and to take stock in the company if they so desire."

"The parties interested in this organization did not go into it for the purpose of reaping profit by the promotion of the enterprise or sale of any franchises or rights acquired by them. The purpose is to get what Paducah needs above all other things at this time, viz: one or more new railroads into the city. The company has a capital stock divided into shares of fifty dollars ($50.00) each and all persons who are interested in the undertaking are cordially invited to investigate to their satisfaction and the company and persons connected with it will take pleasure in giving any information in their power to those interested and who expect to become

Local Chapter Now Has Over Thousand Dollars and Will Hasten Beginning of Work.

Arrangements were perfected yesterday by Paducah chapter, D. A. R., to begin the erection of the D. A. R. memorial fountain, Broadway and Fifth street, as soon as the plans can be secured. There are now $1,100 on hand and the chapter will put all of this into a handsome and substantial base, adding the figure later.

Dr. Delia Caldwell was made chairman of the committee to confer with designers and report at the April meeting of the chapter. Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells and Mrs. James Baldwin are on the committee assisting her.

It is desired by the chapter to put the fountain in this year, which is the last year of Mrs. Boone's term as regent. The plan was inaugurated in the beginning of her regency and much of the success of the work is due to her splendid executive ability. The chapter cleared $281.75 from the opera "Barboza" for the fountain fund.

connected with the undertaking. "As above stated this enterprise is purely a citizens' undertaking for the good of Paducah; no salaries are being paid and no expenses incurred except in making surveys and preliminary work necessary to be done before any railroad will take hold of the proposition. Any citizen of Paducah who desires to become interested in the undertaking can do so on exactly the same basis that those stand upon who have already taken part.

Court Over at Benton.

Judge William Reed returned from Benton this afternoon, having wound up all the business at this session of Marshall circuit court, with the exception of making a few orders in equity cases, for which he will return to Benton after next week. The term has been short and uninteresting. With the exception of one murder trial there were no important cases. The grand jury adjourned this morning after returning 17 indictments, the most of which being for misdemeanor.

PADUCAH BILLS WILL GO THROUGH MONDAY

City Solicitor James Campbell has received a letter from Frankfort stating that the police bill and the saloon license bill for second class cities will be called up by the rules committee of the house and passed next Monday. The police bill will then go to the senate for concurrence.

SHOPPERS ALONG N. C. & ST. L. ARE GRANTED FAVOR

Paducah and people living along the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad will be greatly benefited by the change in the schedule of the accommodation now leaving Paducah at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, which will, beginning tomorrow, leave at 6 o'clock or one hour later. The change will enable people coming to the city from towns along that railroad to spend five hours in the city and return home the same day, the first passenger train from the south arriving at 1:15 p. m. Before the accommodation was put on shoppers were forced to spend a night in the city, as the return train for the south left at 2:15. Recently a passenger coach attached to through freight No. 108, leaving at 5 o'clock, has proven popular with the patrons of the road and the change in schedule is made to further accommodate them.

BAD INFLUENCES ARE WORKING FOR FAIRBANKS HERE

No Arguments in Favor of Him Against Taft Are Being Used, Just Money.

Deboe's Men Act Illegally in Two Counties.

HOW THEY CARRY CALLOWAY

No fierce struggle for control of the Republican organization in the First district has ever been witnessed than the one scheduled to take place in this city Wednesday afternoon, and the preliminary skirmishes in the counties Monday afternoon will see big crowds present wherever the people have a chance to express themselves.

Nearly every county in the district will come with a Taft delegation with regular credentials, and in twelve of those counties, all but Crittenden, there will be contesting delegations, so that Temporary Chairman W. J. Deboe may have an opportunity to arbitrarily throw out the Taft delegations and seat those favoring Fairbanks.

In Graves and Calloway counties the situation will be complicated. Deboe, in his official call, which he made without consulting the congressional district committee, stipulated that mass conventions should be held. But in Calloway county precinct chairmen are certifying a list of precinct delegates to a county delegate convention, without the pretense of holding precinct conventions. A regular mass convention will be held Monday in conformity with Deboe's call, and the same will be done in Graves county, where the chairman has called a mass convention, and James Happy, a Deboe man, has called a rump delegate convention. If Deboe does not recognize delegates chosen according to his own official call as published in the Livingston Echo, he will have a fight on his hands all the way to the Chicago convention.

In McCracken County. Adolph Well, the well known whole sale liquor dealer and Democrat, the leader of the Fairbanks forces, and George Andrech, a liquor man, who was a candidate for city jailer against the late Samuel Beadles, is the principal worker. He says he will line up the "colored vote" against Taft. As he is confining his efforts to the red light district, the better element of the colored race is displaying an inclination to unite with the best white people to rebuke Mr. Andrech.

Lots of money has been sent here, as this district, holding its convention far ahead of the others of the state, if it goes for Fairbanks, will be pointed out as a break in the solid south against Taft. No arguments are being used in behalf of Mr. Fairbanks' candidacy, and here as elsewhere the result simply depends on how well the good people of the county turn out Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the McCracken county court house.

KATTERJOHN FOR TAFT

F. W. Katterjohn, the well known contractor, and president of the board of public works, is an ardent Taft supporter. His attention was called to the secretary of war's achievement in the Panama canal, and investigation of that subject has made him an admirer of the secretary's executive ability. "I believe he is the logical successor of Roosevelt," said Mr. Katterjohn today.

The Week In Society.

THE MARCH WIND.

Bend a bough across my path,
Freakish gallant of the trees!
What, has all your happy laughter Changed to wailing sighs like these?
Nay, I know you love to tease, Song and mirth will follow after!

Many whims the rover hath;
Mischievous prompts his mimic woe;
Rough good-will is in his greeting, Cicerly he calls, "Welcho!"
Join my rambles to and fro!
Come, rejoice—for life is fleeting!"

So, despite his gusty wrath,
I too wander, blithe and free;
Strength of youth, pure joy of living,
Health and hope return to me,
Warrior wind, thy mystery Brings me peace—take my thanks—giving!

Winter Social Season Over.

The social calendar shows very appreciably that the reign of Lent has begun. All of the large social functions were crowded into Monday and Tuesday, but even these "last days" were hardly as filled as usual. Since Shrove Tuesday the literary clubs have held sway. Fortunately there are any number of these in Paducah so there will always be something of interest to record in lieu of the parties. A glance at the coming week will show that clubs are, indeed, trumps, even with the social ones eliminated.

For the State Federation.

The executive board of the Kentucky Federation of Woman's clubs has been called to meet at Harrodsburg, on March 26, 27. Arrangements for the meeting of the federation in Paducah on June 3 will be made then.

A meeting of the local board on arrangements, which is composed of the officers of the six federated Paducah clubs: The Woman's club, Magazine club, Delphic club, Matinee Musical, Kalosophic club and the Alumni Association, and Mrs. Edmund M. Post, third vice president of the State Federation, will be held some time this coming week. The various local committees which will have the entertainment of the federation in charge will be arranged then.

Mrs. Edmund M. Post is a member of the State Executive Board which is composed of the state president, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurer. It is Mrs. Post's intention to attend the meeting at Harrodsburg. Mrs. James A. Rudy is chairman of the State Civil Service committee, and is a member of the State Council, which includes besides the State Executive Board, the chairmen of the various state committees and the presidents of the federated clubs.

Attractive Skating Party.

Miss Willie Willis was the hostess of a delightful skating party at the Auditorium rink on Tuesday evening. The grand march was at 9:30 o'clock and was led by Miss Willis and Mr. Robert Fitzpatrick. A color-scheme of pink and white was most attractively carried out. The recognition cards were in these colors and were heart shaped. The girls wore the pink hearts and the boys the white ones. The pink and white motif was also carried out in the pretty ices and cakes, which were served at 10 o'clock. The twenty-two couples included in Miss Willis' party were: Misses Henry Alcott, Gladys Coburn, Ethel O'Brien, Mary B. Jennings, Elsie Dodge, Rosebud Hobson, Anne Campbell, of Blacksburg, Va.; Hazel McCandless, Jeanette Petter, Mary Byrd, Bess Lane, Alma Kopf, Lucile Harth, Brooks Smith, Hazel Rhodes, Carrie Farmer, Alie D. Foster, Helen Hills, Mary Bondurant, Ethel Sights, Helen Van Meter, Willie Willis; Messrs. D. A. R. Lafayette Afternoon.

Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Luke Russell, 2901 Jefferson boulevard. It was a Lafayette meeting and an attractive program was presented, with music numbers by Mrs. George B. Hart. Mrs. Roy McKinney gave an interesting account of "The French in Our American Revolution." Mrs. Kitty Willis read a selection bearing on the subject. An able biographical sketch of Lafayette was given by Mrs. L. O. Walker.

Mrs. William Marble, who was a guest of the chapter, told very delightfully a charming little incident in the life of her mother in connection with Lafayette. She was Miss Angeline Peters, of Versailles, Ky., and was quite a young girl when Lafayette made his visit to America and was so feted everywhere. Her father, who was her first love, was in the stable that she would not wear a cotton gown woven by herself to the big ball to be given in Lafayette's honor at Versailles. With typical Kentucky spirit she took the wager and appeared at the ball, where were gathered the Breckenridges, the Clays, the Crittendens and all Kentucky's wealth and beauty, in gorgeous apparel. In her simple cotton frock, Lafayette, who had heard of it, asked to meet her and opened the ball with the pretty girl in her homespun gown. It is needless to say she was the belle of the ball, and had the friendship of Lafayette as well as winning her favorite horse. It is a cherished tradition in Mrs. Marble's family, which is a notable Kentucky one. Her mother's brother was Judge Peters, for 21 years on the supreme bench at Frankfort.

A delightful course-luncheon was served after the program. Three new members were added to the chapter as follows: Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Miss Anne Sherrill Baird, Miss Marjorie Scott. Miss Marie Brevard, of Hickman, the guest of Mrs. Roy McKinney, was an out-of-town visitor. The April meeting of the chapter will be with Mrs. Saunders A. Fowler at "Edgewood."

The chapter presented a handsome gold bracelet set with cameo and pearls to Mrs. James A. Young for her gracious services in "Barboa." Miss Caroline Ham, who is a member of the chapter, was presented with a pretty D. A. R. pin.

Barrie—Van Dyke Morning.

The literary department of the Woman's club held a delightful meeting on Friday morning at the club house. Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, chairman of the department, presided. It was a Barrie and Van Dyke program. Miss Helen Lowry discussed the "Life of Barrie," and outlined some of his works, dwelling most especially on "A Window in Thrums," and "Alice Sit-by-the-Fire." "The Story of Margaret Ogilvy," Barrie's incomparable tribute to his wonderful mother, was reviewed by Mrs. Lucy Robison Ford. Mrs. George C. Wallace featured "Van Dyke's Life and Works," giving in detail his "Story of the Other Wise Men." Mrs. Wallace's talk was made especially vivid by giving some personal characteristics of Dr. Van Dyke, told by Mr. Robert Wallace, who is a senior at Princeton University and a member of some of Dr. Van Dyke's classes.

Brilliant Colonial Reception.

The leading social event of the week and a brilliant occasion was the Colonial reception given by Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution on Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Armour Gardner on Fountain avenue. The chapter hostesses were most attractive in quaint colonial costumes with powdered hair that is always so vastly becoming. The house was especially decorated with American flags and the patriotic idea was emphasized throughout. In the dining room the table was a charming arrangement of red carnations and ferns, with red and white mints in the bonbon dishes. A salad course luncheon was served. A feature of the entertainment was the Liberty dance by Little La Verne Purcell in a pretty costume of the National colors.

Receiving with Mrs. Gardner in the parlors were: The Rev. G. T. Sullivan, D. D., Mrs. Eli G. Boone, regent of Paducah chapter, Mrs. M. B. Nash, Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, Mrs. Luke Russell, Mrs. Samuel B. Pulliam, Mrs. S. B. Moore, Mrs. Fannie Allard, Mrs. Sallie Morrow. In the hall were: Mrs. I. O. Walker, Mrs. George B. Hart, Mrs. James Baldwin, Mrs. Leslie Soule, Miss Emily Morrow. Receiving in the dining room were: Mrs. L. S. DuBois, Mrs. Kitty Willis, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Charles K. Wheeler, Miss Helen Lowry, Miss Willie Willis, Mrs. Lloyd Boswell poured the coffee. Little Misses Louise Campbell and Edith Sherrill welcomed the guests at the front door. The assemblage of guests was a large and brilliant one.

Delightful Leap Year Dance.

The girls of the younger set gave a Leap Year dance on Monday evening at the Woman's club house in compliment to the young men. Mrs. George Flournoy chaperoned the dance. It was a delightful occasion and those present were: Misses Anne Campbell, of Blacksburg, Va.; Louise Harrison, of Clarksville, Tenn.; Tess Manning, of St. Louis; Hallie Richmond, of Clinton; Jeanette Petter, Frances Wallace, Corinne Winstead, Katherine Quigley, Philippa Hughes, Henry Alcott, Alma Kopf, Blanche Hills, Hazel McCandless, Helen Hills, Brooks Smith, Helen Powell, Nella Hatfield, Faith Langstaff; Messrs. H. Clough, dealing with a war-time incident. Mrs. W. G. Whitefield read an original paper on "Military Manoeuvres Around Paducah." Dainty refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program. Three out-of-town members of the chapter were present: Mrs. H. H. Clough, Mrs. W. A. Bishop, Mrs. James A. Young, Mr. W. G. Whitefield was a visitor from the local U. C. V. camp. Daily Thought.

The richest gifts come out of the poorest pockets.

WHERE DO YOU STAND

Do you believe the federal laws ought to be enforced against rich and poor alike?

Do you believe in the "square deal?"

Are you against illegal combinations to stifle fair competition?

Do you favor the development of the inland waterways, the conservation of the natural resources of the country, the protection of employes against injury through lack of safeguards, restriction of the abuse of the injunction—ARE YOU A ROOSE-VELT MAN?

THEN—

Do you not wish his policies to be prosecuted to the end?

Do you think Roosevelt is a patriot?

Do you think he would support for his successor a man whom he did not regard as the most fitted to prosecute those policies?

Do you not think he has had ample opportunity to discover Taft's fitness?

Has not Taft in his speeches and the Ohio platform pledged himself to those policies?

If Taft is pledged to these policies and is fitted to carry them out, is it not to your interest to do all in your power to nominate and elect him?

The first step is to instruct your delegates to the national convention to vote for him. The way to do that is to attend the county convention and instruct your delegates to the district convention.

Many years ago some one remarked of W. J. Deboe, "He is the most promising young man in Kentucky." He is still promising.

Thousands of dollars are being spent to carry the First congressional district for Fairbanks.

Remember, you men of McCracken county, if you are for William H. Taft for the Republican nominee for president, and the county goes for Fairbanks, it will be because you do not attend the county mass convention at the court house Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

If anyone doubted who is leading the opposition against President Roosevelt, the action of Harriman's employes on the Nevada committee, in defeating a resolution to indorse the national administration, would settle it. Rebating trusts and pro-motors of illegal combinations are federal circuit court of appeals; as governor of the Philippines and secretary of war, is unquestionably the most experienced executive in the United States.

His duties have been the most onerous of any statesman of this generation. He went to the Philippines at a time, when the insurrectionists were terrorizing the islands, and their sympathizers were engaged in a generation old struggle with the Catholic church over the possession of the Friar lands. He quieted the spirit of insurrection and he arbitrated the church property question to the satisfaction of all parties. When he returned to the Philippines at the opening of the general assembly, he was greeted as a protector.

He straightened out the Panama canal muddle; he has administered the affairs of Cuba to the satisfaction of the Cubans, and in a hundred ways he has established a well earned reputation as a dispenser of exact justice.

In politics his methods have been strange to the politicians of the old school. In his home state he was opposed by the officeholders' machine; but at a popular primary the people wrecked the machine, and he came out of the turmoil triumphant.

Secretary of War Taft should be called secretary of peace, for always he is sent where the trouble is worst, and always he has brought peace.

POLITICAL PERFDY.

The story of political perfidy related in Friday's Sun explains how W. J. Deboe and Ed Franks lost their standing with the national administration. The fact that they have lost their standing is shown by the way their recommendations are ignored.
The reason for their support of Fairbanks is found in their loss of standing with the present administration, and their forlorn hope that some one other than a member of the present administration may succeed Roosevelt. They are known for their deeds in Washington. They have nothing to lose and everything to gain by opposing anybody associated with President Roosevelt; but those wide awake workers in the First congressional district, to whom these down and out politicians are appealing, have a great deal to lose by taking up such a forlorn proposition against the sentiments of their own people. Before you go in with Deboe and Franks ascertain how many other fellows have been offered the same job, and make them write down their offer. There are many workers fighting for Taft, who have bitten once or twice on Deboe's bait of federal patronage.

FROM THE PEOPLE.

From the people comes all Taft's strength. In Illinois Joe Cannon has fixed it so the county committees will select delegates to the congressional district conventions, and in Chicago and probably all over the state, Taft will be second choice. In Ohio popular primaries were held and every county instructed for Taft, first, last and all the time. In Louisville the Fairbanks men proposed that the county committee select permanent chairmen of the ward conventions.
The Taft men insisted that the voters themselves select their own chairman, knowing that a majority of the voters would be for Taft.

LOUISVILLE FOR TAFT.

In Louisville Fairbanks men, who thought they controlled the Jefferson county Republican committee, through its chairman, proposed to hold ward conventions under temporary and permanent chairmen appointed by the committee and at places to be designated by the committee at any time, which would mean that the committee would select some obscure place in each ward and not notify the Taft voters. But when a vote was taken the resolution was voted down and one adopted, providing for a central location for the conventions, the place to be selected two weeks in advance. The temporary chairmen were named and every one of them is a Taft man, and the voters in convention are to select their own permanent chairman. The Louisville papers now are unanimous in expressing the opinion that Louisville will go to Taft. That will give him more than 200 delegates to start with.

PULPIT COMMITTEE

WILL SECURE PASTOR FOR SEC-OND BAPTIST CHURCH.

Appointed Last Night to Inquire for

Successor to Rev. L. G.

Graham.

For the purpose of securing a pastor to succeed the Rev. L. G. Graham, the congregation of the Second Baptist church, Ninth and Ohio streets, last night appointed the pulpit committee as follows: J. A. Cole, Eugene

Tuttle, W. S. Bryant, Jack Cole and

J. W. Leigh. The committee sent several letters to ministers today, and hope to secure an early reply. The committee intends securing a strong pastor, and in the next few weeks, probably, will have some minister here on trial.

The Spoilers.

By REX E. BEACH.

"It's murder! McNamara and Glenister!" He dashed back up the steps behind him. The judge, following, while muffled cries came from above.
The gambler turned toward the three men who were hurrying from the beach and, recognizing Wheaton, called to him: "Tutty my feet! Cut the ropes! Quick!"

"What's the trouble?" the lawyer asked, but on hearing Glenister's name bounced after the judge, leaving one of his companions to free the rider.
They could hear the fight now and all crowded toward the door, Helen with her brother, in spite of his warning to stay behind.

She never remembered how she climbed those stairs, for she was borne along by that hypnotic power which drags one to behold a catastrophe in spite of his will. Reaching the room, she stood appalled; for the group she had joined watched two raging things that rushed at each other with inhuman cries, ragged, bleeding, fighting on a carpet of debris. Every loose and breakable thing had been ground to splinters as though by iron slugs in a whirling cylinder.

To this day, from Dawson to the straits, from Tug to the arctic, men tell of the combat wherever they fore-gather at flaring campfires or in dingy bunkhouses, and, although some scold the tale, there are others who saw it and can swear to its truth. These say that the encounter was like the battle of bull moose in the rutting season, though more terrible, averring that two men like these had never been known in the land since the days of Vitus Bering and his crew; for their rancor had swollen till at feel of each other's flesh they ran mad and felt superhuman strength. It is true, at any rate, that neither was conscious of the filling room, nor the cries of the crowd, even when the marshal forced himself through the wedged door and fell upon the nearest, which was Glenister. He came at an instant when the two had paused at arm's length, glaring with rage drunken eyes, gasping the labored, breath back into their lungs.

With a fling of his long arms the young man hurled the intruder aside so violently that his head struck the iron safe and he collapsed insensible.
Then without apparent notice of the interruption, the fight went on. It was seen during this respite that McNamara's mouth was running water as though he were dentally sick, while every patch brought forth a groan.
Helen heard herself crying, "Stop them! Stop them!" But no one seemed capable of interference. She heard her brother muttering and his breath coming heavily like that of the fighters, his body swaying in time to theirs. The judge was ashy, imbecile, helpless.

McNamara's distress was patent to his antagonist, who advanced upon him with the hunger of promised victory, but the young man's muscles obeyed his commands sluggishly; his ribs seemed broken, his back was weak, and on the inner side of his legs the flesh was quivering. As they came together the boss reached up his right hand and caught the miner by the face, burying thumb and fingers crablike into his cheeks, forcing his slack jaws apart, thrusting his head backward, while he centered every ounce of his strength in the effort to maim. Roy felt the flesh giving way and flung himself backward to break the hold, whereupon the other summoned his wasting energy and plunged toward the safe, where lay the revolver. Instinct warned Glenister of treachery, told him that the man had sought this last resource to save himself, and as he saw him turn his back and reach for the weapon the youth leaped like a panther, seizing him about the waist, grasping McNamara's wrist with his right hand. For the first time during the combat they were not face to face and on the instant Roy realized the advantage given him through the other's perfidy, realized the wrestler's hold that was his and knew that the moment of victory was come.

The telling takes much time, but so quickly had these things happened that the footsteps of the soldiers had not yet reached the door when the men were locked beside the safe.

Of what happened next many garbled accounts have gone forth, for of all those present none but the Ironco Kid knew its significance and everyone counted the truth concerning it. Some claim that the younger man was seized with a fear of death which multiplied his enormous strength, others that the power died in his adversary as reward for his treason, but it was not so.

No sooner had Roy encompassed McNamara's waist from the rear than he slid his damaged hand up past the other's chest and around the back of his neck, thus bringing his own left arm close under his enemy's left armpit, wedging the receiver's head forward, while with his other hand he grasped the politician's right wrist close to the revolver, thus holding him in a grasp which could not be broken. Now came the test. The two bodies set themselves rocklike and rigid. There was no lunging about. Calling up the final atom of his strength, Glenister bore backward with his right arm, and it became a contest for the weapon, which, clutched in the two hands, swayed back and forth or darted up and down, the fury of resistance causing it to trace formless patterns in the air with its muzzle. McNamara shook himself, but he was close against the safe and could not escape, his head bowed forward by the lock of the miner's left arm, and so he strained till the breath clogged in his throat. Despite the grievous toll his right hand moved back slightly. His feet shifted a bit, while the blood seemed bursting from his eyes, but he found that the long fingers encircling his wrist were like gives weighted with the strength of the hills and the irresistible vigor of youth which knew no defeat. Slowly, inch by inch, the great man's arm was dragged back, down past his side, while the strangling labor of his breath showed at what awful cost. The muzzle of the gun described a semicircle and the knotted hands began to travel toward the left, more rapidly now, across his broad back. Still he struggled and wrenched, but uselessly. He strove to fire the weapon, but his fingers were woven about it so that the hammer would not work. Then the miner began forcing upward.

The white skin beneath the men's strips of clothing was stretched over great knots and ridges which sunk and swelled and quivered. Helen, watching in silent terror, felt her brother sinking his fingers into her shoulder and heard him panting, his face ablaze with excitement, while she became conscious that he had repeated time and again:
"It's the hammer lock—the hammer lock."

By now McNamara's arm was bent and cramped upon his back, and then they saw Glenister's shoulder dip, his elbow come closer to his side, and his body heave in one final terrific effort as though pushing a heavy weight.
In the silence something snapped like a stick. There came a deafening report and the scream of a strong man overcome with agony. McNamara went to his knees and sagged forward on to his face as though every bone in his huge bulk had turned to water, while his master reeled back dragging the opposite wall, his heels dragging in the litter, bringing up with outflung arms as though fearful of falling, swaying, blind, exhausted, his face blackened by the explosion of the revolver, yet grim with the light of victory.

Judge Stillman shouted hysterically:
"Arrest that man, quick! Don't let him go!"

It was the miner's first realization that others were there. Raising his head he stared at the faces close against the partition, then groaned the words:
"I beat the traitor and—and I broke him with my hands!"

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

New York, March 7.—Favorable symptoms are more numerous in the commercial outlook especially in respect to the growth of confidence.
Jobbers note more pressure to replenish depleted stocks of staple merchandise, orders in many cases being for delivery next fall. The advancing season has also contributed to better feeling by accelerating distribution of spring goods and stimulating interests in building trades. Industrial plants are more active, pig iron production rising to the best weekly average in three months. Credits are still closely scanned and mercantile collections are by no means satisfactory, yet payments are more prompt and the volume of business is distinctly heavier.

Dry goods jobbers have done more business than was expected, but thus far there is little improvement in the primary market, and few mills have resumed activity. Jobbers will not begin operations as early as usual so that sales will be closer to the actual retail distribution, and the season's aggregate business be much less speculative than in any recent year. Many buyers have left the woolen market after placing moderate orders, and liberal supplementary contracts will be needed to make up a normal aggregate.

The production of footwear at New England factories is still much curtailed. Idle plants not yet having received sufficient fall business to warrant the starting of machinery. Quotations are nominally unchanged.

YELLOW JONQUILLS ARE SOLD ON MARKET TODAY.

Bright, yellow jonquills, the first of the season, proclaiming that spring is here, were on the market this morning. They were not hot house plants but grew in the open, although the flowers were protected from the chilling north winds by a fence, Dick Fletcher, colored, residing near Wallace park, was surprised yesterday afternoon to find several dozen of the plants in full bloom. This morning the early marketeers smiled at the familiar jonquills, and Fletcher had sold out long before the shoppers were down town. The flowers brought ten cents a dozen.

THE GOEBEL TRAGEDY

HISTORICAL EVENT TO BE EXHIBITED AT THE KENTUCKY.

Moving Picture Show of Grand Quintuple Bill Next Monday and Tuesday Afternoon and Evening.

Thrilling, interesting and historical! What more could one hope for in a moving picture? All three of these will be given the person who on next Monday or Tuesday visits the Kentucky theater when the Goebel tragedy and the trials of Caleb Powers will be exhibited. To all who have read or heard of this great political crime there is no doubt that the picture will be thrilling. These same persons will attest that it will be interesting and in addition is the guarantee furnished Col. M. J. Farnbaker by Carl Laemmle, the greatest film magnate in the country, who in a letter to the local manager, stated that it was the greatest picture he had ever seen and he had seen thousands of them. An exact and faithful reproduction of a crime so intimately associated with the politics of Kentucky and national affairs cannot but be historical, making in all an attraction, the equal of which has never before been produced in motion pictures.

In order to attract special attention to this great subject Colonel Farnbaker has secured four other great feature pictures, making a grand quintuple bill. The admission price will be 10 cents for all performances both afternoon and evening.

LOCAL MARKET.
Five thousand pounds of fish were offered for sale this morning on the Paducah market and by dealers over the city, according to a conservative estimate of a dealer. Although the prices have ruled strong, the dealers report that the trade is a little more than normal. Yesterday was the first Friday in Lent, but the dealers report the sales were less than the last Friday in February. The high water of the Ohio and Tennessee rivers has removed a big source of the cheaper grades of fish, such as the croppie and buffalo. There must be a decided drop in the water before any of these fish may be caught in quantities. Few fishermen are trying to catch the fish in the rivers, and the local dealers are obliged to get their supply of the finny tribe from St. Louis, Louisville, and even ocean towns.

Wholesalers in the larger cities have taken advantage of Lent to jump prices, according to the statement of local dealers. The advance in prices will range from 1 to 4 cents a pound. At Pensacola, Fla., the price on red snappers, a favorite dish during Lent, has advanced 1 cent a pound, which makes the price 12 1/2 cents. Black bass have gone up 3 cents a pound and are retelling at 20 cents a pound on the market. The cheapest fish on the market are the buffalo, which sell at 12 1/2 cents a pound. Home caught croppie bring 12 1/2 to 15 cents. The heaviest demand is for catfish, and owing to the scarcity and demand the price has soared from 15 cents to 20 cents, which is a price the dealer gets rarely. In addition to the fish it is ascertained that the sales in oysters has picked up wonderfully since Lent began.

HUGHES STANDS PAT
NO COMPROMISE IN WAR ON RACETRACK GAMBLING.
Guest at Dinner Given in the Bronx By the North Side Board of Trade.

New York, March 7.—Governor Charles E. Hughes came to town last night, and in the stronghold of opposition vigorously defended his attitude on the pending anti-racetrack gambling legislation.

The occasion was a dinner tendered the governor by the North Side Board of Trade at Ebling's Casino, in the Bronx.

The governor's topic was "The State of New York," and his argument was in behalf of faithful adherence to the state's constitution. The constitution forbade, he said, race-track gambling, and the only issue at trial was whether the people and their constitution were supreme in this state or whether they were to be ruled by gamblers and those who profited by gambling.

Other speakers and the subjects of their addresses were: Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, "American Commerce on the Sea," and Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson, "The Navy."

A HOME MADE BLOOD REMEDY
Cures the Kidneys and Makes Them Filter Poisons From the Blood and Cures Rheumatism Every Time.
YOU CAN MIX IT YOURSELF.

A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood," prints in a recent issue the following: Fluid Extract of Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

It cleans the blood of all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy in run-down, debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Kargon and Extract Dandelion works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles. This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcoholic concoctions. The ingredients cost but little and are easily mixed at home. Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.

About People.

Capt. and Mrs. James H. Koger, 305 North Seventh street, returned home this week from a month's sojourn in Cuba.

Mrs. William Hughes, of 1627 Jefferson street, has returned from an extended stay at Pass Christian, Miss. where she has been recuperating from a severe illness. Her host of friends will learn with pleasure of her improved health.

Mrs. W. H. Sallee and little son, Gregory Sallee, of Danville, Ky., arrived this week to visit Mrs. W. J. Humphreys, of Jefferson street, and Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory, 727 Broadway. Mrs. Sallee was formerly Miss Susan Humble and is very popular in Paducah, where she spent much time previous to her marriage.

Mr. James A. Young, who has been visiting for the past two weeks with Mrs. Young at the home of Mrs. S. H. Clark, on Clay street, will leave on Monday for Louisville to rejoin the Louis James Theatrical company, which is playing Shakespearean repertoire and will make a tour of the south after several weeks of rest. Mr. Young graciously used his rest-time here in aiding church and civic causes, playing well the leading roles in some theatrical benefits.

Mrs. Flora Mae Clark Young, who played the part of Dore in the opera, "Barboa," given for the benefit of the D. A. R. memorial fountain, was presented by the chapter with a handsome bracelet of dull gold in a twisted design set with cameo and pearls as a tribute for her talented service so generously given. Mrs. Young, who is a former Paducah girl, prizes the gift highly as a souvenir of old home and friends. Mrs. Young will remain here until May, when she will join Mr. Young and accompany him to some of the eastern summer resorts. As Lillian Lancaster she was a fine success as the leading ingenue in "Custer's Last Fight," but will not rejoin her company this season.

Irvin S. Cobb, the New York World humorist, began being funny in Paducah, Ky., but after a few years found it was easier in New York.

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES
NEVER LEAK
What never leak? Exactly; never leak, never needs repairs of any kind, and last as long as the building itself. Neither melting snow, nor the worst driving rain can possibly reach the interior of the building that's covered with Cortright Metal Shingles. Pretty good recommendation isn't it? In addition we might add they're fire-proof and lightning proof too. Think of it! and they are not as expensive as other forms of roofing. Step in and we'll show them to you.

FOR SENDING LETTER TO TWEEDMOUTH ON NAVY.

London Times Demands That the Communication Be Produced In Parliament.

London, March 7.—Asserting that Emperor William recently sent a letter to Lord Tweedmouth, first lord of admiralty, on the subject of the British and German naval policy, the Times this morning calls for the production of the letter in parliament, together with Lord Tweedmouth's reply on the ground that it is an attempt to influence the British minister, responsible for the navy, in German interests.

In an angry editorial the Times says that the letter will cause a shock, painful surprise and just indignation on the part of the British people.

"Emperor William holds honorary rank of admiral in the British navy," says the Times, "but if that is held to warrant interference in our domestic affairs by secret appeals to the heads of a department on which national safety depends all that can be said is that the abolition of dynastic complicity of this kind is an urgent necessity. Had King Edward taken such a step there would have been a universal outcry of anger throughout Germany and an overwhelming demand for a double shipbuilding program as a fitting reply.

"If the emperor has anything to suggest concerning armaments," continues the Times "he has the regular official channels of communication and no private relations can excuse a departure from the regular methods. Anyone Can Make Some Easy Money If They Will Only Follow This Man's Advice.

There is no denying the fact that the musician's life is an easy one, and it is getting more so every day. They are well paid and well treated, which is justly due them. There is no other trade which compels you to pay for your experience. When you start to learn any other profession you receive a salary right from the start. Not so with the musician. He must pay for his knowledge, and it is only right that he should receive good pay for his services afterward. Would you like to be a musician? You can. FAT LEGACIES FOR SOUTHERN PEOPLE

About Ten Millions or Civil War Claims.

Beautiful Redbird is Useful Friend to Farmer Besides Charming With His Presence.

APPETITE FOR INSECT PESTS

(United Press.)

Washington, D. C., March 7.—There is a fat legacy of something over $10,000,000 in the United States treasury awaiting claim by heirs of southern property owners during the civil war. Uncle Sam is not a patient executor, and is getting tired of holding the funds in trust, after forty years. The original amount was about $50,000,000, but claims have already been awarded to the extent of $40,000,000—still there is $10,028,351.88 remaining.

This sum represents the proceeds from the sale of captured and abandoned property taken by federal soldiers during the civil war and, according to an act of congress in 1863, sold and the cash receipts converted into a trust fund for the owners. Southerners who have proved confiscation and destruction of their property and have had their proofs attested by the court of claims, have been forced heretofore, to secure a special act of congress to obtain their portion of the trust fund.

The government is now dissatisfied with the delay in distributing the fund, and proposes to do away with some of the red tape. If a bill recently introduced in the house, and favorably reported by the committee on claims is passed, the court of claims will have final power in such cases, and the treasury will pay such settlement as they authorize, without further action from congress.

In effect, the government is advertising its wish to distribute this trust fund to the rightful claimants as soon as possible.

Settlement of war claims has always been a desperately dreary business with the government—some claims have dragged along for more than a century before being adjusted. For instance, there is still a house committee on revolutionary claims. Although the members of this committee have practically a year-around vacation so far as meetings go, still it is a fact that there are now pending a number of revolutionary war claims.

Congress is anxious that no such state of affairs shall result in the civil war cases.

The Redbird.

The vivacious and sweet songster redbird has been esteemed throughout the south for its attractive plumage and as a cage-bird than for the aid which it renders farmers in destroying injurious insects. Indeed, it has been blamed for the destruction tion of grain crops and the eating of beneficial insects. In a bulletin issued today, however, the department of agriculture declares that from an economic standpoint the bird deserves complete protection, examination of a large number of the birds' stomachs having developed the fact that they have a keen appetite for destructive insect pests. In securing food, one cardinal injures crops where fifteen benefit. It is stated.

"The bird is easily attracted by food in winter," says the report, "and by the provision of suitable nesting sites in summer. Being thus responsive to human care, and being so valuable economically, the redbird's presence on the farm, and even in the city garden, should be encouraged in every possible way. With proper protection and encouragement it will become more and more numerous and render husbandry a correspondingly increased amount of useful service."

The most destructive insect pests eaten by the redbird include the Rocky mountain locust, potato beetle, cotton-boll weevil, codling moth, rose beetle and caterpillar.

LEOPOLD GIVES UP

CROWN DOMAIN IN CONGO ANNEXATION TREATY.

Wants to Hold On to His Usurfruct in Revenues—The American Concessions.

Brussels, March 7.—The text of the new Congo annexation treaty was submitted to parliament by Premier Schollaert, and on his motion was sent to the committee without debate. According to the terms of the new treaty King Leopold is to abandon the crown domain and the crown foundation to Belgium. Belgium on its part shall not only assume all the Congo obligations, amounting to $21,000,000, but undertake also to continue the king's usufruct in the Congo revenues during his lifetime. Belgium is specially required to respect the concessions granted to two American companies in 1906, in which Thomas F. Ryan is interested.

M. Vandervelde, the Socialist deputy, and leader of those who oppose the treaty of annexation, reserved comment on the new proposals, preferring to study the text of the document before giving his opinion in detail. He regarded the king's abandonment of the crown domain, however, as a great victory, but was disposed to oppose flatly recognition of the rights of the concessionary companies.

TAFT WILL CARRY CITY AND COUNTY

Courier-Journal Names Chairman of Conventions.

Taft Club in Twelfth Ward Depletes Membership of Original Twelfth Ward Club.

MAY BUILD NEW CLUB HOUSE

The Louisville Courier-Journal says:

The organization of the West End Taft club has about put the Twelfth Ward Republican club out of business so far as numbers are concerned. This was evidenced last night when both clubs met at Pfister's hall. Twenty-fifth and Market streets. The truth of the business is that the Taft club is composed mostly of members of the Twelfth Ward Republican club, and the members showed that Taft was the paramount issue with them. Frank Hadden, president of the Taft club, is vice-president of the Twelfth Ward Republican club, but when the meeting dates conflict he stands by the Taft organization.

About 100 Taft followers assembled in the lodge hall and heard a lengthy speech by Joseph Sellman, county attorney, about the fundamental differences between the Democratic and Republican parties. In an adjoining hall the Twelfth Ward Republicans met about forty strong for the purpose of hearing a report of the committee on organization. The report was made by W. O. Pell, chairman of the committee, but owing to the fact that the attendance was so small consideration of the report was postponed until the meeting in April. The report recommends the erection of a permanent club house at a cost of $5,000, but most of the members are in favor of building a house at a greater cost.

Taft Men Jubilant.

The Taft followers were quite jubilant over what they termed a great victory. They say that the action of the committee assures the fact that Taft will carry the Fifth congressional district. The chairmen to serve in the ward conventions April 25 were announced as follows:

First Ward—W. W. Smith.
Second Ward—Louis Schwarz.
Third Ward—Joe Sheffer.
Fourth Ward—William P. Struss.
Fifth Ward—Donald Blanchard.
Sixth Ward—Dr. J. T. Blackburn.
Seventh Ward—William Heyburn.
Eighth Ward—Charles Fetz.
Ninth Ward—James Roberts.
Tenth Ward—Louis Ryans.
Eleventh Ward—James Stringer.
Twelfth Ward—E. J. Ashcraft.
County—John W. Casseday.

A POSITIVE GUARANTEE

Chicago, March 4th

M. J. Farnbaker,
Paducah Ky.

Dear Sir:-

In regard to inquiry "The Goebel Tragedy," I personally guarantee it not to be a citron. The picture not only shows the actual shooting, but also the political meetings leading up to the assassination, the scenes in the court room during the trial of Caleb Powers and all the thrilling episodes which have stirred the whole country and which are likely to be repeated if Ex-Gov. Taylor is ever brought to bar charged with complicity in the murder of Goebel.

The man who arranged the pictures, Mr. J. H. Moore, of Mildred, Ky., was for years closely identified with Kentucky politics. He worked for weeks and weeks on the making of the pictures so that they are letter perfect. When he first approached me with a proposition to sell me the exclusive rights to the film, I said: "Not for me, too sensational. Not good for the moving picture business." But he insisted that I should at least project the film on the screen in my demonstration room and size it up for myself. Well, Sir, I was amazed, thrilled and thunder-struck. I have seen thousands of films in my time and have become rather blasé. But I want to say to you that this one made me sit up and take notice! I saw instantly that it would be the feature film of the year and I snapped it up. When the Paducah people see it at the grand and magnificent Kentucky Theatre next Monday and Tuesday they are going to get the biggest show of the year, and they are going to talk about your entertainment and pack the house from the top row of seats in the gallery to the brass rail in the orchestra pit. I wouldn't say this if I didn't know it to be true.

Culley's Posters Thrown Open to Public.

The Culley store has been thronged all day with people calling to view the posters recently installed and just opened for public inspection today. They are indeed attractive bits of work and add much to the beauty of the store.

There are six pictures depicting American and English games. The first on the left as you enter the store is an English coaching scene, with the typical English coach and four, the master and his hounds, and the country club in the distance; the second is a polo scene; the third a Yale football player visiting his friends between halves; the fourth a golf scene; the fifth "Two Thoroughbreds at the Wire" and the sixth an automobile race.

The work is done on burlap. The colors are bright and attractive and harmonious, and Mr. Culley is to be congratulated on his enterprise in securing such works of art.

Night Riders Warned in Graves.

(Mayfield Monitor.)

To the Tobacco Growers of Graves county, Kentucky: The time has come for every good citizen to speak out. There is an organization known as night riders going about at night terrorizing certain classes of citizens by burning property and whipping some individuals and otherwise frightening citizens. Now this is all wrong and constitutes high crime. I don't know who they are, but I do know they are acting in the capacity of individuals, and as such are amenable to the law. I have always condemned mob law. I have said publicly and privately that I was opposed to "night riders." I have never considered it my duty to write concerning it until now. I have been creditably informed that the "night riders" have posted a threatening notice on Lawson's mill, in Graves county. I had hoped that lawlessness of this kind would not come into Graves county. Now, my hope is gone, and I call on all good citizens to lend a helping hand to suppress all illegal acts of the above character. I want every member of the Dark Tobacco Association to discourage everything that points to violence of any kind. I don't want you to encourage it by word or nod of the head or a wink of the eye. I want to advise those who are not members to not provoke violence by threats or by purchasing guns and ammunition and making public announcements how many you can kill before they can get you. The notice that is posted on Lawson's mill orders certain "Hill Billies" not to deliver their tobacco.

I will say to all persons who have sold, who are not members of the association, deliver your tobacco according to contract, and do it in the daytime. We have closed the books of the association, and there is no way for any person to join at this time. So there is nothing for the non-association man to do except to sell outside. Any demand that prohibits outsiders selling is unjust and will not be tolerated. I want to say to all "night riders," and those that may become members of the band, you certainly do not know what you are doing. You are committing felony after felony, and felonies are indictable for all time to come. The Scriptures say be sure your sins will find you out, and some of you may go to the "pen" ten years from now. Now I have an idea that some of the band are boys who are led astray by older persons. My advice to all young men is to keep out of such things.

My plan is to persuade men to come into our association and help us to win good prices for our tobacco by conducting the business in such a manner as to win the confidence of all men. Public sentiment molds all law, mob or legal. I find that the members of the association are afraid to raise their voices in opposition to "night riders." What I have said may cost me my barns and tobacco and perhaps some hide. Notwithstanding, I have written what I believe to be right and I am not afraid. Respectfully,

J. W. USHER, Chairman.

Night Rider Warning.

Gradyville, Ky., March 7.—The little village of Gradyville has been thrown into a fever of excitement over a letter received by Mr. G. W. Spillman, one of the most prominent farmers in this section. The letter, which was quite a threatening one, was written in a bold, legible hand and signed "Night Riders," and was left on the front veranda of the Spillman home, and reads as follows:

"George Spillman, we have never been in this part of Kentucky before, but now we think it high time that we warn some of the tobacco raisers not to go too fast. It would be much safer for you and your neighbors to join the farmers' association, which we command you to do right at once or you will have to take what we are in the habit of giving, and you know well what that is, but as we don't want to do any violence without first warning the farmer, but if they do not obey us, they will have to take what we see fit to give. We are the night riders."

While the advisability of organizing this county into a farmers' club has been discussed only pro and con for some time, such radical steps were not expected by the people here. This is the first direct step toward force exhibited and has created no end of excitement and comment.

Succeeding Beyond Our Expectations so Far in 1908

YOU see evidences of our success and can readily find a reason for it. Here are some very plain reasons why we can afford to sell cheapest: 1. We do not sell on a credit. 2. We do not give discounts. 3. We buy chiefly from manufacturer. 4. We run with less operating expense than other stores.

We are keeping faith with the public by adhering to the rigidly cash system in both the buying and selling. Buying with cash, buying from manufacturers, buying in large quantities, no retailer buys more advantageously. We sell for cash. Other stores tax cash customers for losses sustained by delinquent credit customers and for book-keepers, collectors and the other losses the credit system involves. We do not give dressmakers commissions nor discounts to the influential. Other stores levy tribute from you to compensate for discounts to commissions granted a favored few. This store underprices to everybody and treats all alike.

Located about a minute's walk from Broadway, where our operating expenses are much lower than they would be were we on Broadway, aids us materially in under-pricing. Here's food for correct thinking. The price a merchant pays for an article is only a part of its cost. Every man and woman understands that general expense contributes largely to the cost of merchandise. When you grasp the full meaning of how and why expenses increase the cost of merchandise and comprehend their influence on the price you pay, you will grow more and more interested in the character of the methods employed. When you think it out you will realize that the merchant who pays rent does so at your expense. The losses of his credit system are at your expense. His brilliant and tawdry decorations are costly but they are at your expense. The spectacular effect he indulges in are at your expense. Extravagance increases the price of goods, but it's all at your expense. This store saves where other stores lose; that's why our prices are lowest. Is there any wonder that all stores cannot afford to sell alike? Our practical and conservative methods of running a store are intended to appeal to your sense of economy. We have been bargain hunting on this trip to New York City. Have secured greater bargain opportunities than ever before. We'll be most home by the time you read this. Come to Harbour's, where values are wholesome and distinctive.
